

Gr. 1, Theme 10, Story 1
Two Greedy Bears, Fluency

began	burst	laugh	turning	sure	more
divide	second	water	thirsty		break

Two bear cubs went out to see the world. They walked and walked, till they came to a brook. "I'm thirsty," said one.

"I'm thirstier," said the other. They put their heads down to the water and drank.

"You had more," cried one, and drank some more.

"Now you had more," cried the other, and drank some more.

And so they drank and drank, and their stomachs got bigger and bigger, till a frog peeked out of the water and laughed.

"Look at those pot-bellied bear cubs! If they drink any more they'll burst!"

The bear cubs sat down on the grass and looked at their stomachs.

"I have a stomach ache," one cried.

"I have a bigger one," cried the other.

They cried and cried until they fell asleep. In the morning they woke up feeling better and continued on their journey.

Two bear cubs went out to see the world. They walked and walked, till they came to a brook. "I'm thirsty," said one.

"I'm thirstier," said the other. They put their heads down to the water and drank.

"You had more," cried one and drank some more.

"Now you had more," cried the other, and drank some more.

And so they drank and drank, and their stomachs got bigger and bigger, till a frog peeked out of the water and laughed.

"Look at those pot-bellied bear cubs! If they drink any more they'll burst!"

The bear cubs sat down on the grass and looked at their stomachs.

"I have a stomach ache," one cried.

"I have a bigger one," cried the other.

They cried and cried until they fell asleep. In the morning they woke up feeling better and continued on their journey.